A Constructive Plan

An official of the Quebec department of agriculture outlined to a gathering of eastern farmers a plan to develop a large scale cattle-fattening industry in the eastern provinces, using western grain as feed. This might, he thought, grow into a very important branch of farming in the older provinces, requiring 100,000,000 bushels of wheat, or about one-third of western feed grain each year.

For many reasons it would be preferable that the fattening should be done and the feed consumed in the west, and the opening of the United States market will undoubtedly stimulate the industry. Both breeding and feeding on the prairies. But there is little likelihood that the west will in the near future be able to make use of the entire amount of coarse grains produced here, the quantity being certain to increase because wheat-growing is not profitable. A market for the surplus, capable of absorbing any such quantity as suggested, would be a timely and welcome source of revenue for the western farmer.

"Are You Willing?"

Just to make the record clear, and show exactly what their answers mean, here is the direct question asked Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini by President Roosevelt:

"Are you willing to give assurance that your armed forces will not attack or invade the territory or possessions of the following independent nations: Finland, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, The Netherlands, Belgium, Great Britain and Ireland, France, Portugal, Spain, Switzerland, Liechtenstein, Luxembourg, Poland, Hungary, Rumania, Yugoslavia, Russia, Bulgaria, Greece, Turkey, Iraq, The Arabias, Syria, Palestine, Egypt and Iran?"

There is no possibility of dodging this direct question, and the answer will carry its own plain meaning, whether the answer may be. An affirmative reply would open the way for a cessation of the armament race, a resumption of international relations on the wholesome basis of assured peace, and a resolute tackling of the economic difficulties with which all nations are now cursed. Anything other than an affirmative answer means the continuance of fevered armament-building, apprehension, and stifled trade.

A Red-Blooded Canadian

If Mayor Houde of Montreal speaks for a majority of the people of Quebec and he claims to—Hon. Ernest Lapointe is doing a fine bit of service to the cause of national security in openly combatting the views of the Mayor on Quebec politics as well as in parliament. For the Minister of Justice is taking no middle-of-the-road course in respect to Canada's duty to arm in its own defence, or its duty to give support to Great Britain should war be forced upon the old country by the totalitarian allies.

In the English-speaking provinces it is not necessary to defend either of these proposals, they are self-evident obligations, which have the instinctive approval of the overwhelming body of public opinion. But it has been asserted very positively and openly that people in Quebec are in the main Fascist in thought or feeling and would give their moral support to Britain's assailants.

Mr. Lapointe either does not believe this to be true or else does not believe it should be true; and he is appealing, as only he can appeal, to the common sense of his compatriots to stand with their fellow-countrymen both in the matter of preparation for self-defence and in that of backing Britain should it be attacked. He deserves admiration both for his opinions and for the courage to assert such plain things in direct opposition to the Houde neutrality propaganda.

Ten Days' Respite—Perhaps

The world will have to wait until Friday of next week to learn whether Hitler and Mussolini will permit it to enjoy the ten-day respite from war and threat proposed by President Roosevelt. Unless, of course, the dictators answer in the meantime by grabbing some more territory. That possibility is not to be ignored. Their records for the past year are a sufficient assumption that they will commit no further acts of aggression in the meantime.

Remembering that the newspapers of Germany and Italy are maintained as spokesmen for the Nazi and Fascist chiefs, the present indications are that the President's proposal will be refused. In both countries the kept press appears to be exceeding its previous achievements in the output of abuse for Mr. Roosevelt. This, however, is not conclusive. Newspapers of that type can, and do, change their tune as easily as gramophones or the mechanical toys. There are no doubt expressing the resentment of their masters that the President should have confronted them with so embarrassing a question as to their intentions. But that these will, on sober second thought, refuse to accept the proposal, is another matter. In the language of Mr. De Valera, who cannot be accused of anti-Hitler bias, "Is it possible that it should be rejected?"

To normal minds that surely is not possible. But Herr Hitler is not normal. His course cannot be predicted on the basis of common sense, or the exercise of balanced judgment. And Hitler is the man who will dictate the joint reply of the allied dictators. Unless, again, Mussolini—who by no means a fool—has decided this the time to cast off the tow-ropes.

The E. A. C. team are not bringing the Memorial cup home with them; but it took a soggy climate, a mighty good hockey team, and a wind on skates to keep them from doing it.

Some branches of the Canadian Legion have petitioned Ottawa asking that "all Nazis and Fascists in Canada" be registered. But is it necessary? The agencies can make themselves known; and the others likely would not admit their opinions.

The Speaker of the New Zealand House of Representatives says if and when it becomes advisable to send New Zealanders overseas in an Empire crisis "they will go as volunteers." While no one can say what people may demand and parliaments do under pressure of war conditions, this statement probably reflects also the overwhelming weight of public opinion in Canada at the present time on the subject of conscription versus voluntary service.

Current Comment

A New Situation

LONDON—President Roosevelt's peace appeal has the full approval of Canada, Australia and New Zealand, the Daily Telegraph (Conservative) said today.

"Mr. Roosevelt's invitation to peace has not much to hope for," the editorial said. "The time for mediation which the Führer has imposed on himself suggests a peace which he may not intend to return a fit negotiator."

"No doubt it is evidence of the solidarity of the Rome-Berlin axis that newspaper reactions in both ends are in the same strident key."

"It should be as agreeable to Mr. Roosevelt as it is to the people of these islands to know that his proposal, timely effort to avert the calamity of a world war has the whole-hearted approval of Australia, New Zealand and Canada."

Finded, the reaction of the totalitarian states, not less than those in other parts of the world, clearly demonstrate that Roosevelt's message created a new situation in the world, and that by introducing an additional and simplifying factor into the international equation."

The Daily Herald (Labour) said: "What Herr Hitler proposes to say on April 28 must at this stage be speculation. At first glance there would seem to be little point in adding any reply to the already delivered by German newspapers."

"They have unleashed upon the United States such a flood of abusive fury that nothing seems to us now. Yet the underlying violence of the attack upon the president's appeal is an indication that the Nazis have managed to avenge the 'real' support of the United States and nations and no less real menace it holds for those who plan evil."

The Fascist Press

ROME—The editorial tone of the Fascist press indicated today the Italian response to President Roosevelt's appeal almost certainly would be unfavourable.

Fascists said the replies of Premier Mussolini and Chancellor Hitler, to whom the Roosevelt message was addressed, would be co-ordinated and identical in content.

They doubted, however, that Il Duce would follow the Reichsführer's lead and call a meeting of the Fascist grand council to discuss the matter of Fascists and Guido to announce his reply. Hitler has summoned his Reichstag for April 28 for the purpose.

Mussolini was believed to have discussed the Italian attitude toward the Roosevelt appeal with Hitler's chief aide, Field Marshal Goering. The Nazis left Rome Monday afternoon to return home.

The Fascist press charged Roosevelt's appeal did not represent the opinion of the German people, that it violated diplomatic procedure, and that it should not be taken seriously.

Foreign correspondents believed Mussolini was irritated especially by the widespread publicity the Roosevelt appeal received. Fascists expressed particular indignation over the president's claim in making the message public almost simultaneously with his delivery.

Mussolini's own newspaper, Il Popolo d'Italia of Milan commented:

"Sound international practice requires and history teaches that any initiative designed to alter relations between peoples must be made if it is to be taken seriously and entertain the slightest hopes for success, with due reserve, in the calm examination of responsible government, and not by unleashing the morbid curiosity of the public."

Il Messaggero said it was "an act of war" which "is the most serious and deliberate provocation by the plutocratic demagogues against the proletarian nation."

Penal Reform Advances

Parliament has enacted the bill providing for the appointment of a Penitentiary Commission. This is reason to believe that Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, will appoint the three best available men to the commission, and the way will then be open for a great step forward in the modernization of the penitentiary system.

It is sincerely to be hoped that the government will keep the objective steadily in view of establishing more intelligent and more humane methods of punishment, and will not be satisfied with a little progress. We have a very great deal to do, and the government must not be far behind us in dealing with this important social problem.

There are great possibilities of progress in Canada, and the government will be expected to take all necessary measures to secure the more successful results that are being obtained elsewhere.

If the government and its commission are thoroughly in earnest they will not be satisfied with the divided jurisdiction in penal administration in Canada between the Dominion and the Provinces. A system controlled entirely by the Dominion, with proper segregation and other modern principles adopted throughout, would be much more efficient, and fortunately there are no constitutional difficulties to prevent this change being made.

Such progress as is now in sight is due to active public interest, and it is a very necessary condition that interest should be maintained. Winnipeg Free Press.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

It looks, at the moment of writing, as if Europe has gained a respite from war for a few weeks, though no plighted word is worth heeding. Before invading Albania and bombing its people, Mussolini had given his solemn word to keep peace with Albania. It was backed by his signature to the treaty of Paris.

Respite AIDS and the Anglo-Italian treaty, Yugoslavia-Slavia and Greece, having received his solemn word, are keeping troops on their frontier.

He has given his solemn word once more to Prime Minister Chamberlain, that he will observe his previously-broken solemn promise to withdraw his armies from Spain. Blood still not being cheaper than water in Britain, the British minister has withheld action in the Mediterranean. The value is not in Mussolini's promise, which will probably be broken or evaded, but in the proof that the aggressor nations, despite their braggadocio, are not anxious for war with the allied democracies.

Every week of delay reduces the aggressor's chances. Their only hope was in a sudden and treacherous attack on the civil populations, bombing London as they had bombed cities in Spain and threatened to bomb Prague and Danzig.

Lord Beaverbrook positively asserts there will be no more such outbreaks as are now ready. He says—and it has the ring of truth—that the last thing Hitler wants is a stand-up fight with an opponent who is a match for him. He wants a war where victory cannot be quick and certain.

Suffer the democracies would in the first fury of onset, but the end would give them victory. And that would be the end of Hitler and Nazism.

There seems to be an open season for notables in the criminal courts of New York since Thomas, the famous New York lawyer, has been sentenced to a mammoth-salaried radio comedians who funked on sharing their property to help those on relief, and tried to beat the revenue department when they were "expensive."

THE TEST of jewels for their wives, have been HONESTY smartly denied, finger-printed and ordered to register to the police. The officers motto: "The wife of a Supreme Court judge, a second offender in the game of smuggling, and a Jew, is a Jew." The judge has been sent to prison for three months, in addition to being fined $2,500 and held for customs penalties.

Former Senior Judge of the Second U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals (Justice Manton) is out on bail awaiting trial on several charges of corruption in the case of the Jew. The Jew has obtained sums totalling over $400,000 from litigants in his courts for reversing decisions in their favor involving large amounts of money.

In one of the cases cited, the Jew was allegedly acted as go-between in making the financial arrangements has pleaded guilty. A Jew in New York City has been charged with being dismissed for corruption on the bench—the Bar Association is now seeking to disbar him.

In providing large salaries for judges and making their positions permanent during good behaviour, the theory has been acted upon that thereby they are made proof against temptation. But all these men received salaries and emoluments very much greater than our own judges in Canada and it didn't keep them above suspicion. Perhaps this is no substitute for innate integrity; no bribe that will make a man honest or dishonest against his nature.

Mention of Prosecutor Dewey for the efficient work he has done in exposing political racketeers, and probing allegations against men in high office, may be a little premature. The Jew has been overwhelmingly selected by the Washington political correspondents for the presidency in succession to Franklin D. Roosevelt.

He was defeated for the governorship of New York recently, but is regarded as the likeliest candidate to carry the country in the next presidential election.

If he becomes president it will be the parable of the faithful steward being acted in real life.

Religion Day By Day

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

"LITTLE FOLK OF LITTLE SOUL"
Our Little folk is ailed up, and big boats cannot pass through.

Perhaps that is what the minds of this day may have become very ill with the small and of trivial interests that the great ships of thought and purpose have no room to pass.

Radio, motion pictures, newspaper comics, sporting pages and dances have deposited a terrific amount of pettinism in the minds of mankind. Only the few who have helped carry the revival can believe a passage through these allied-up souls.

Teach us to look well to the depths of life, our Father. Send us in quest of solitude and meditation and great purpose. Amen.

Read II Corinthians 10:1-7.

The New "Parties"

There doesn't seem much life in western Canada at this time in the McCullough Leadership League. No organization appears to be under way and if one is formed the only way to "pep up" the citizen in his public duties and try to get out a less party-minded type of candidate, may be to have a very small party, with nothing that kind is done. The League, it has been said, may throw its backing to certain candidates, but it is not a party. It is a little difficult to think of the League backing a C.P., a Social Credit or a Communist candidate—Regina Leader-Post.

Chairman YPRES BATTLE RECALLED BY RED CHEVRONS

Club Will Commemorate Epic Struggle At Annual Banquet

Commemorating the twenty-fourth anniversary of the second Battle of Ypres in which Canadian troops received their first great test in the Great War and receding stirring days in that period and the undying friendships formed, the Red Chevrons Club will hold its twenty-first annual banquet at the Canadian Legion Memorial Hall on Saturday, April 23.

Members of the Red Chevrons Club will commemorate the struggle when, exposed to poison gas and machine gun fire in the war, the Canadians held the line in the face of determined German attacks, barred the road to Calais, and saved the Western front and probably civilization.

The Inquiring Reporter

Do you think that girls have changed since 1914?

A United States college has taken a poll on this question and in general the results are that the girls have not changed, or at least have changed but little since the outbreak of the Great War.

The Bulletin Inquiring Reporter, interested in this subject, made some inquiries and took a poll on his own account, and here are some results:

HAROLD SIMPSON, returned miller: I think girls have changed very much since 1914. We have the upswing hairdo and a greater use of cosmetics. Also, whereas in 1914, a small percentage of girls were employed, now we have a large percentage. After the war girls seemed to let themselves go more than before and in the result I find that they have changed very much.

MRS. M. J. HILTON, his mother: I, O. D. Ed. Girls today have not changed in the essential sense since 1914. The greatest ambition of girls today, as it was in 1914, has been since the beginning of time, to be married and have a home. The girls of today are more businesslike, more confident, more and more self-reliant.

THOMAS ALFRED, returned soldier: Fundamentally I don't think girls have changed much since 1914 and furthermore I think that girls are much the same through the years. Today, as it has been through the years, girls seem to have as their main object, getting married. They have taken a more prominent place in business and professional life and as a result they have had to change with the times. Outwardly they are less domesticated, but when I get right down to brass tacks, I don't think they have changed much since they say "We Don't Want to Lose You, But We Think You are in It."

JACK GOLDIE, businessman and former Billie Holiday singer: Well, you know what sailors are. No you don't. You only know what a sailor is because of the sailor. I see little change in girls since 1914. As ever, they are charming and although they are more self-reliant, more businesslike, and they still possess all the tendencies toward domesticity and home-loving that they always did.

Most jokes about the Scotch are like automobile accidents—just a matter of someone being too close. A Scotch lassie is irresistible when she gives you that "come hither" look.

Scotch bagpipes have a haunting sound, probably because people are always dying to get out of hearing. A Scotswoman in his kilt is a fine sight, particularly when there's a high wind.

Answer: Wrong. Arbor Day was first observed in Nebraska in 1872, at the suggestion of J. Sterling Morton that one day in each year be set aside for tree-planting. Nebraska now celebrates this occasion on April 22, but the date varies in different states.

Looking Through Them Over

By Jack Kelly

Fistic Angles

Final Test?

Seven Come Eight

DODIE WENSTON fights Charles "Killer" Coates, of Los Angeles, here on May 2. That fact has already been announced, but if you take time out to do a little thinking and wondering you find there are a number of highly interesting angles in this coming passage at arms—or passage at schedules to be more correct.

The first interesting angle is that it is something like a year ago Wenston was slated to fight this same ebony-bellied Killer Coates out on the Pacific Coast. Then suddenly the fight dissolved into thin air without any very convincing explanation. Coats' fight schedule blundered that when Bob Brennan, Wenston's manager, discovered that Coates can really hit like the kind of a mule he decided not to risk Wenston with the dark killer.

Now the most interesting angle is that although Promoter Fred Osborne has plans and arrangements well advanced to stage a domination bout between Wenston and Warrington here June 1, Bob Brennan has not yet signed on the dotted line as being agreeable to such a battle. Warrington is accepted in the east as the domination heavy and light heavyweight champion, in the west he is accepted as only the eastern champ in those divisions. Wenston is named western heavy and light heavyweight king by the Western Canada Boxing Federation. The proposed fight here would hand the winner the undisputed title in both the heavy and light heavy divisions.

Curtains for One of Them

TIGHT fight on June 1 would ring down the curtains on one or other of the contenders. I have an idea that if Wenston were to win, he might accept one or two more fights and then do a Gene Tunney and retire undefeated. Being a favored business man with game board instincts, it wouldn't be surprising if Brennan has accepted the Coats' fight for Wenston as the final big test before taking on the very toughest fight Terry Warrington.

Coats doesn't figure as a contender for Dominion honors. If Wenston were to be beaten by the Kido world champion, a Canadian title contender—albeit a bit unimpaired. Smart managing could then keep Wenston away from Warrington for perhaps another year and allow time to eliminate any weak points uncovered by the deadly punching Coats. It would be a mighty strange if Brennan's spine mind has not given deep thought to these possibilities.

If you study Coats' record, you have to rate him as probably the most dangerous giant Wenston has yet encountered. Take this man's record for example: Barth beat Martin in 1937 and in 1938 Coats came along and hung his heavy right hand on Barth's chin-whiskers. Fans here know how tough Martins turned out to be when he was fought into Wenston. On top of this, Coats has beaten such top notch fighters as Ray Actis, Swede Berglund and Wayne Ketchell. All of which makes the coming fight on May 2 a highly interesting affair and a highly dangerous assignment for Wenston. Some of the boys who have seen Coats in action are prepared to bet you that the rest of Wenston's career and the fistic career will come in contact with each other more than once on the night they meet punches. You have seen Coats. I wouldn't know whether or not these lads are talking with authority or amuse.

N.H.L. Moguls Scratch Heads

WITH its interminable playoffs finally disposed of, the National Hockey League is now giving much thought to the problem of what to do about the unbalanced condition produced by having seven clubs instead of eight—or possibly six. The annual meeting of the league comes next month and the moguls are expected to make strenuous efforts to bring in an eighth club.

There may be a glimmer to the N. H. L. but it is going to be hard work to convince promoters that this glimmer means more profits than many of them are now collecting from minor league hockey. Cleveland is most often mentioned as the logical spot for an eighth major league club. However, Owner Art Heppner of the Cleveland Club in the International-American League, is making money hand over fist and so far has shown no interest in taking a chance on losing some of it by slipping up to the N.H.L.

Philadelphia has also been talked of as a prospect for Clevelander's big time rival. But Philadelphia had one club in the A. L. league and is now making money with a minor club, so little is likely to be done there. Washington is the third suggested city for N. H. L. entry. That city, however, has just put its money in the A. L. Amateur League and its citizens are still waiting for a winter hockey season, a city lined form of mayhem, an ice carnival or a game. Washington certainly doesn't seem ready for major league puck wrangling and it looks as if the N. H. L. will have to struggle along for another season with seven clubs.

HART TROPHY IS AWARDED CANUCK STAR

Toe Blake is Voted Most Valuable Player in Big-Time Hockey

MONTREAL, April 19.—Hockey's highest individual award, the Dr. David A. Hart Memorial trophy, was bestowed Tuesday on Hector (Toe) Blake, a 25-year-old speed-baller from the mining country who kept Montreal Canadiens in the National League running most of the season just past.

The league president, Frank Calder, announced designation of Blake as the player most valuable to his team in 1938-39. Toe will appear in the league's all-star game on May 1.

Toe Blake, hurrying Hector by his heels, for he had led the league in point-making despite the fact Canadiens were in the cellar most of the winter, and finished sixth in the standing.

GREAT RECORDS

Simultaneously, the president announced selection of Clint Smith of New York Rangers as winner of the Lady Brier trophy, awarded annually to the player who the writers' opinion "combines the highest standard of sportsmanship with outstanding ability." Smith, in his fourth season in the big time, had together 24 goals and 31 assists for a total of 55 scoring points. Even his first hockey season, he was the league's leading scorer for the Canadiens, he was driving in from left wing to make pretty plays with Paul Harvey, center, and Lester Patrick, right wing.

SMITH FROM SASKATON

Smith, the league's greatest add-on of the newspaper comic section, is the quietest of the ice on ice. Born 24 years ago at Assiniboia, Sask., he moved at an early age to Saskatoon and played junior hockey there until, like so many other western players, he was named to the Lester Patrick's Ranger school at Winnipeg. After playing with Vancouver in the Pacific Coast Hockey League, he spent a short period with the Bruins in the A. L. league and was called in for the full campaign last winter.

Blake, who succeeded Boston's Eddie Shore to the Hart trophy, led out A.A. of Toronto and Johnny Gussie of Chicago, high-scoring forwards who were second and third in the voting respectively.

MARTY BARRY RECORD

Smith won the cup held last season by Gordon Duggan of Toronto, who topped the league in scoring in 1937-38 but was out of action for weeks this winter.

Second and third behind Smith were Marty Barry of Detroit, who won the trophy two years ago, and Apps.

George Wilson of Winnipeg, western C.A.B.A. executive member, said the Consols title would be awarded Buffaloes by default.

Most of the Edmonton players were glad to get away from the raw, cold Toronto weather which prevailed since their arrival here April 8. Before a crowd of 34,000 who sat through threatening weather and occasional raindrops, Bonura belted a three-run homer and two singles, while Bill Jurges and Frank Deane, received in trade from the Cubs, contributed a run-batted-in each.

SOME PEOPLE ARE ALLERGIC

to EARL-BIRDING ...

But Sweet Caps AGREE WITH EVERYBODY

Some people say the early bird can have the worm—they aren't fishermen. Anyhow, they think one good turn (in bed) deserves another.

But Sweet Caps—they rise to every occasion! Worth getting up for—that Sweet Cap "Good Morning." And they're just as pleasant at bedtime. They agree with everybody, and all the time. Boon companions at work and play—that's why they're Canada's favorites.
